The top of the range AK12 Arcturus!

Efficient and realistic, this replica features a PERUN optical MOSFET

At the level of the body the main elements are made of steel, the outer barrel is made of aluminum. The stock, the grip and the handguard are in reinforced Polymer. Internally there is a reinforced Gearbox V3 with quick spring change (QD) that does not require the extraction of the latter.

This replica is equipped with the new High-torque 24 K (21 TPA) motor with neodymium magnets and a PERUN MOSFET.

This Mosfet works using optical sensors and offers many choices of settings (burst/binary firing modes, trigger sensitivity, pre-cocking, activre brake, etc.)

The battery is housed in the removable top cover by activating the lever of the handguard allowing the top to slide back in order to disassemble it.

- Comes with a folding rear sight, an adjustable 30/130 bb magazine and a 500 bb hi-cap.
- Each replica has a unique serial number .
