Black powder replica by Davide Pedersoli of the famous Remington revolver from the Civil War (1863-1875).

The anti-reflective barrel, anti-wear barrel and no rifling are specially designed to give the shooter excellent performance.

- Barrel with 7 stripes at a pitch of 1:18" or 450 mm.
- Walnut butt pads

After the success achieved by the Rogers & Spencer Pedersoli Target in the field of marksmanship, Pedersoli adds, at the request of some shooters, this new revolver competition, made on the basis of Remington.

The materials used are of first quality as well as the ballistic characteristics which guided the choices of manufacture of the barrel, the barrel and the mechanism.

Each weapon is literally customized by Pedersoli craftsmen-shooters in order to give it an optimum performance from the first use.
