Designed to meet the needs of big game hunters, the Sologne Klassic .356 Winchester cartridges are distinguished by their Pro Hunter Round Nose bullet. This type of bullet, also called a "round nose bullet", is characterized by a rounded tip that offers several advantages in hunting situations. Thanks to its shape, it promotes deep penetration and optimal energy transfer on impact, ensuring a quick and humane kill. Its stable trajectory is ideal for shooting in forested areas or cluttered terrain, where light obstacles such as branches can deflect projectiles with a finer point. Combined with a weight of 200 grains, this bullet guarantees consistent performance at medium and long range, even on robust game.

Sologne Klassic ammunition is carefully manufactured to provide exceptional reliability. Every component, from the choice of powder to the Pro Hunter Round Nose bullet, is designed to maximize efficiency and accuracy, ensuring the hunter an impeccable experience in the field.
