It offers a universal adjustment of the verticality and, thanks to the oblong drilling of its base, it is possible to mount it on a very large number of weapons, including other manufacturers. The horizontal rod supporting the roof allows a drift adjustment of 30mm, and the amplitude of the adjustment in site is 56mm. The locking system is particularly effective, but the rod can nevertheless be easily folded thanks to the lateral axis screw. Mounting screw spacing: 55 to 59mm.
