We recommend using the Canibeep Pro sound tracking collar on a dog that is at least 6 months old.

Train your dog to the sound of the Canibeep Pro: initially, the sound power may frighten the dog.

To get him used to the collar, lower the volume and your dog will gradually become familiar with the sound.

When fitting your dog with the Canibeep Pro collar, position the sound diffuser upwards so that the noise is not too close to his ears.

Switching on, changing the sound or even selecting the operating mode is easier before placing the collar around the dog's neck.

If you decide to train several dogs at the same time, we recommend programming each collar with a distinct sound so that the dogs can be recognized (4 sounds to choose from on each collar).

We recommend not putting the collar on a dog in poor health (heart problems, epilepsy, etc.) or with behavioral problems.

Before fitting the collar, it is recommended that you have your dog examined by a veterinarian to check that there are no contraindications.
