Ideal for protecting clothing during paintball games.

The EUROP-ARM disposable paintball suit is designed to offer lightweight and practical protection against paintball splashes, while ensuring comfort and freedom of movement.

- Weight: 40 g/m²
- Available sizes: Child S / Adult XL
- Color: Blue
- Hood: Integrated
- Closure: Front zipper
- Elastic bands: Wrists, ankles and waist
- Sold individually (1 carton contains 50 pieces)

Practical protection for paintball fields

On a paintball field, paint splatters are inevitable. This disposable coverall acts as an effective barrier to protect players' clothing, whether they're beginners or experienced. It's quickly put on before the game, and clothes stay clean afterward.

Comfort and breathability in action

The breathable non-woven fabric used limits the feeling of overheating during play. Even during dynamic matches, the suit remains comfortable to wear, without the "plastic bag" effect that is unwelcome on the field.

Maintenance and freedom of movement

Elasticated cuffs, ankles, and waist ensure a snug fit and prevent the suit from restricting movement. The integrated hood provides additional upper body protection, particularly against splashes around the neck.

Simplified management for operators

- Sale: Individually
- Packaging: Carton of 50 pieces
- Uses: Recreational paintball, outdoor centers, events

FAQ

Does this suit protect against impacts from BBs?

No, it's designed to protect clothing from paint splashes, not to absorb impacts. Specific protective gear is still necessary.

Does the paint penetrate the fabric?

The hydrophobic non-woven material effectively limits paint penetration during normal paintball use.

Is it suitable for children?

Yes, this model is available in children's size S, ideal for facilities that cater to a young audience.
