Designed for Sharps 1859 and 1863 rifles

These cases are specially machined to be compatible with the chambers of Sharps percussion rifles from the years 1859 to 1863. They allow a realistic shooting experience with .54 type hollow skirt projectiles or historical ogival bullets.

Original format for traditional reloading

The .547 diameter and internal cylindrical shape are consistent with historical cartridge cases. They are designed to accommodate a black powder charge and a bullet without an integrated primer (primer on the nipple of the lock plate).

Reusable and robust

Made from thick brass , these cases withstand numerous reloading cycles. Their smooth surface minimizes fouling, and their shape ensures easy extraction after firing. Proper maintenance guarantees multiple uses.
