Renato Baldi rifle for dynamic battue shooting, wood-look composite stock.

The Renato Baldi CF01 bolt-action rifle, born from the Italian gunsmithing tradition, offers big game hunters a reliable and particularly accurate weapon. This resolutely modern rifle comes standard with a threaded barrel for mounting a sound suppressor and a pre-drilled receiver for mounting an optic.

- 3+1 bolt action rifle.
- Tilting magazine, attached to the weapon by a door mechanism.
- M14 x 100 threaded barrel to fit a silencer.
- 56 cm floating barrel, battue band with height-adjustable leaf.
- Lateral adjustment of the fluorescent handlebar on transverse dovetail.
- 3-lug front cylinder head: better pressure distribution and faster locking thanks to a reduced rotation angle!
- direct trigger, side safety, single-cell removable magazine.
- Composite stock with wood-look polyurethane film, 360 mm, rubber sabot.
- Equipped with originally mounted grenadiers.
- Housing drilled and tapped to accommodate fixed or swivel mounts.

A superb rifle for hunting wild boars as well as deer.
