The Beretta Brown Bear EVO hunting jacket, made of resistant two-layer microfiber material, is silent and will be perfectly suited for both stalking and stalking.

Waterproof and breathable with a BWB EVO membrane, this microfiber jacket is soft and resistant. Its seams are taped to guarantee complete protection against the elements and the breathable lining facilitates the evacuation of moisture to the external environment. The inside of the collar is made of warm and soft microfleece fiber.

This Beretta jacket is developed in Realtree AP® Blaze Orange Camo for areas where high visibility is essential for safety.

This jacket from Beretta's Active Hunt range offers maximum protection during the hunt and is also suitable for hiking in the woods and on the plains. All garments in this range are water repellent and/or waterproof, breathable, light and quiet.
