A realistic imitation of corvids

The Helen Baud AC93 Crow Call was developed to faithfully reproduce the calls of the carrion crow and the rook . Its realistic sound effectively attracts the attention of birds and optimizes calling strategies during corvid hunts.

A sound level suitable for large spaces

When used in open areas, such as fields or agricultural zones frequented by corvids, this call offers excellent sound projection. Its design promotes a clear and powerful diffusion of vocalizations, even when the birds are at a considerable distance.

Rugged construction for the terrain

Made from fiber-reinforced polycarbonate and equipped with an aluminum ring, this call offers excellent resistance to the stresses of regular use. It easily withstands the conditions encountered during hunting outings while maintaining its acoustic qualities.

Compact and always within reach

With its compact size and exceptionally light weight, the AC93 easily fits into a jacket pocket, vest, or hunting bag. This compactness ensures it's immediately available when an opportunity arises in the field.

Designed for corvid hunters

Simple to use and effective, this bird call is a popular piece of equipment for hunters looking for a reliable tool for controlling corvid populations. Its ergonomic design makes it easy to handle and allows for quick and convincing calls with minimal practice.

FAQ

What birds can the AC93 bird call imitate?

The AC93 is designed to reproduce the calls of the carrion crow and the rook, as well as other corvids with similar vocalizations.

Is this bird call easy to transport?

Yes, thanks to its compact size and featherweight of 45g, it can be easily carried in a pocket or hunting bag.

What is the advantage of reinforced polycarbonate?

Fiber-reinforced polycarbonate improves the mechanical strength of the call while maintaining excellent acoustic qualities for long-lasting use.
