A resolutely modern and tactical shotgun

- Smoothbore over-and-under shotguns with fixed cylindrical choke
- Composite stock and tulip forend for excellent resistance to wet environments
- Shock-absorbing pad
- Lightweight ergal rocker with black finish
- Selective single trigger
- 21mm Picatinny rail on top of the receiver for mounting optics or a red dot sight
- 21mm Picatinny rail at the muzzle for mounting accessories such as a light or laser

A modern slug with its black composite elements and a tactical dimension thanks to its compactness and its Weaver rails for mounting optics and accessories.

Compact and light, it will allow dazzling sightings on a company of wild boars crossing in front of you.

Its composite stock and handguard also provide excellent resistance to bad weather and wet and marshy environments. The composite also provides great resistance to shocks and scratches.

In addition, the composite material requires little maintenance, and will last over time.

With the COUNTRY ST TACTICAL you will be able to hunt big game on a drive, especially during the autumn and winter period without fear of degrading it.

A robust quality rifle, resistant to the worst treatment you will subject it to.
