This remote plate allows on a single tripod initially supporting the rifle to mount its shooting accessories.

Its modularity of fixing between its generic screw thread and the possibility of adding picatinny rails, offers a great possibility of mounting accessories (spotter bezel, action camera, rangefinder, lighting, IR system, etc.)

Initially dedicated to professional use, the KJI shooting supports allowed unparalleled shooting comfort and reduced fatigue for a shooter who had to keep his position for hours.

Offered to hunters and sport shooters, KJI products allow shooting with incredible precision at ever greater distances.
