A magazine runs 10 rounds with its removable extension to give the impression of a 30 rounds

- Modular polymer charger
- Capacity 10 shots
- Polymer extension with internal location to add ballast.
- Available in Black, TAN and OD GREEN

The H3L PRO differs from other AR15 magazines by its modularity.

While respecting the regulations, it is possible to mount an extension on its short 10-shot magazine to give the feeling of a 30-shot format magazine.

This extension allows an excellent grip of its magazine, especially for the sports shooter. In addition, internal slots have been designed in the extension, in order to insert additional weights, according to the desires of each shooter.

Depending on its shooting sessions, it is possible with a single magazine to use it in short or long format.

The magazine extension does not increase the capacity to more than 10 rounds.
