The Beretta BRX1 wood is the first linear reloading rifle designed by Beretta. Available in .30-06 Springfield and .300 Win Mag calibers, it combines modernity, elegance and reliability. Its cold-hammered free-floating barrel and one-piece receiver/barrel assembly ensure exceptional accuracy, below sub-MOA

Smooth, ambidextrous rearmament

Thanks to its linear reloading breech and its robust locking (8 lugs for standard calibers, 16 for magnum calibers), the BRX1 guarantees safety and speed. Its loading lever and ejection are reversible in a few seconds , without tools, to suit both right- and left-handed users.

Precision and reliability

Its cold-hammered, free-floating rifled barrel , combined with a one-piece action and barrel, provides perfect rigidity and consistent accuracy. Tested to NATO military standards, the BRX1 boasts proven reliability and high-level ballistic performance.

Ergonomics and shooting comfort

The grade 2 walnut stock , sanded and oiled, ensures a neat aesthetic and natural comfort. Its length is adjustable thanks to spacers. The interchangeable pistol grip allows the weapon to be adapted to the hunter's morphology. The adjustable butt plate and the three-position safety further reinforce the ergonomics.

Adjustable relaxation and customization

The adjustable trigger offers three levels (0.9 kg, 1.2 kg, 1.5 kg), allowing you to adapt the trigger pull to your hunting style. The integrated 21 mm Picatinny rail makes it easy to mount a rifle scope or red dot sight.

Choose the Beretta BRX1 wood in .30-06 or .300 Win Mag and enjoy a modern, modular and precise linear rifle, designed for demanding hunters.
