The patented Lee Bench Plate press base allows you to assemble and disassemble your presses in seconds.

The patented Lee Bench Plate press platform simplifies assembly and disassembly of your presses in seconds. Its robustness allows reloading up to 50 caliber BMG, then quick transition to another press for priming or other stages.

Made from trapezoidal steel, this base ensures perfect alignment and merges seamlessly with the press mounting bracket. It includes a steel base compatible with all LEE presses, accompanied by the necessary mounting hardware.

Its heavy-gauge steel bracket attaches securely and quickly to any workbench or table, ensuring balanced load distribution, even on lighter supports.

Please note, this plate is exclusively designed for Lee presses.
