A versatile and affordable reloading press.

The Lee Precision Automatic Reloading Press (APP) redefines speed and simplicity for preparing your cartridges and sizing your cast bullets. This unique patented station, with patent no. 10,076,781 B1 obtained in late 2019, offers unrivaled versatility with the ability to mount tools at the top or bottom of the press.

Performance and Advanced Design:

- Tool mounting flexibility for unprecedented automation.
- Robust and compact construction combining steel, aluminum, nylon and acetal copolymer.
- Ergonomic design with power handle for easy maneuverability.
- Top support with polished columns and centerless rollers for optimal stability.
- Counterbalancing by helical spring to prevent pinching of fingers.

Versatility and Ease of Use:

- “Frameless” design for reloading all calibers up to Magnum.
- Ample travel to size larger belted magnum tools.
- Almost unlimited visibility and hand clearance for easy use.
- 100% capture of spent primers in a screw cap tray.

Included in the Kit:

- Press Lee APP
- Spline drive breech lock bushing and universal socket support adapter.
- X-PRESS case holders nos. 2, 4 and 19 for over 60 different cartridges.

Speed Redefined:

The Lee Precision Automatic Reloading Press is the fastest single station on the market. Its revolutionary case and bullet dispenser automatically grips and positions elements, providing exceptional execution speed thanks to the new X-press case holder.

Versatile and Affordable:

With a competitive price compared to other single-station presses, the Lee APP is perfect for getting started in reloading or as an additional press to enhance your equipment.

The Lee Precision Automatic Reloading Press is much more than just a press: it is a revolution for reloading enthusiasts.
