Single-station press with cast steel structure.

The Brass Smith Victory stands out as the most robust, solid, and rigid single-station press available on the market. Its cast iron "O" frame and 2.5 cm diameter cylinder attest to its solidity. When you operate the press handle, you feel a precise fit and smooth operation. The Brass Smith Victory press comes with a straight primer feed, reliable and easy to handle. It is explosion-proof.

Primer feed tubes are secured with heavy steel for added safety. Its generous 12.7 cm opening makes it easy to load the largest calibers, even magnum. Additionally, the press's comfortable spherical handle is ambidextrous, suitable for both right-handed and left-handed users. Compatible with any 7/8" x 14 threaded tool and standard socket holder, it offers great versatility. Its powder coat finish ensures additional durability. In terms of technical specifications:
