- Weight: 368 g alone, 548 g complete

Designed for outdoor excursions, the K25 Bowie Survival Knife R32895 focuses on a strong hand presence, a long blade and complete equipment to accompany outdoor uses.

Bowie blade with saw back

The R32895 stainless steel blade features a recognizable Bowie profile, prized for its versatility in camping, rope cutting, or small field tasks. Its black titanium coating provides a discreet and tactical finish, while the split back facilitates chip removal when working on wood. Its silhouette is reminiscent of the knife used by Sylvester Stallone in the Rambo films.

Rubber handle and secure grip

The 12.7 cm green handle features a rubber coating for improved grip. This secure hold is immediately noticeable, especially during extended use. The paracord wrist strap completes the package and adds a rugged, field-ready touch.

Multifunctional guard and integrated accessories

The steel guard incorporates a flathead screwdriver and a Phillips screwdriver, a practical detail when preparing your equipment or working on small pieces of gear. The knife comes with a leather sheath, a nylon thigh strap, and an 8mm ferrocerium fire starter.

Survival kit in the handle

Inside the handle, a compact kit contains several useful items for outdoor situations. This isn't just for show: it's exactly the kind of detail that provides peace of mind during a hike, a bivouac, or a bushcraft exercise.

- Kit includes: sewing thread, safety pin, tweezers
- Fishing equipment: fishing line, 2 weights, 2 hooks
- Troubleshooting: pencil, scalpel blade, scraper
- Lighting: 2 matches and a separate ferrocerium firelighter
- Care: 1 dressing
