Foldable rear sight and handlebars inclined at 45° for “Back-Up”° sights

- Machined from lightweight, extremely durable polymer

The 45° sights allow a wide LPVO type optic to be combined, where the use of standard open sights would not be possible.

They can both be used for a left-handed or right-handed shooter.

This type of aiming system, called emergency or back-up, allows aiming at short distances or when the optics used are faulty.
