The Caldwell shell catcher net mounts to any AR15 platform with Picatinny rails and collects shell casings during ejection.

The clamp and metal frame are fully adjustable to work with a wide variety of rail/optics configurations and allow cases to fit into the bag without disrupting slide operation or cycling. The quick-release locking feature allows for quick installation and removal of the case collector, allowing the rifle chamber to be quickly checked or cleaned. The large capacity of 100 cases (.223) prevents cases from being scattered around the shooting area and prevents hot cases from landing on the shooter or spotter. The convenient zipper at the bottom of the mesh bag makes emptying easy.
