Designed for AK platforms in shooting ranges

This surplus ammunition is suitable for weapons chambered in 7.62x39 mm such as the AK-47, AKM or SKS. Its robust design, with a copper-plated steel case and Berdan primer, guarantees a reliable and regular feed during intensive shooting sessions.

FMJ multi-purpose training ammunition

The 123.5 grain FMJ (Full Metal Jacket) projectile ensures good target grouping. The copper-plated steel case offers good mechanical resistance, even in heated or humid environments.

Practical packaging and proper use

Supplied in boxes of 500, these cartridges allow for back-to-back sessions without frequent reloading. Compliant with the CIP standard, this batch can be used legally by holders of a category B authorization.

Instructions for use: store ammunition in a dry environment, monitor the condition of the extractors in case of intensive use, and check the compatibility of the weapon with steel cases.
