Optimize your reloading with the Deluxe APP Press from Lee Precision, combining speed and versatility for unmatched performance.

The Deluxe APP Press is an innovative reloading press designed to automate and speed up your reloading operations. It deprimes, calibrates cast bullets, flares primer pockets and much more with remarkable efficiency. Its automatic case and bullet feeding system, combined with an ergonomic handle, provides a smooth and comfortable user experience. Compatible with a wide range of calibers, this press is the ideal tool for reloaders looking to improve their productivity without compromising quality.

Technical characteristics:

- Die Compatibility : Accepts standard 7/8-14 dies from all brands
- Priming System : Automatic primer feed for increased efficiency
- Maximum Case Capacity : Up to 30-06 caliber (2.494 inch maximum length)
- Feeding System : Includes universal feed tubes for both cartridge cases and bullets
- Handle : Steel handle with ergonomic grip for optimum comfort

The Lee Precision Deluxe APP Press is a revolutionary automatic reloading press that redefines the standards of manual reloading. Featuring a patented design, it allows dies to be mounted on either the top or bottom of the press, providing unprecedented flexibility in reloading operations.

The automatic feeding system, equipped with innovative jaws, quickly grips and positions the cases or bullets, optimizing the workflow. The press is also equipped with an automatic priming system, ensuring a regular and uniform feeding of the primers, without the need for frequent adjustments.

The Deluxe APP Press's sturdy construction, with high-quality steel and aluminum components, ensures exceptional durability and stability during use. In addition, its compact, frameless design makes it easy to install on any workbench, without taking up too much space.

Compatible with standard 7/8-14 dies and utilizing standard case holders, this press easily adapts to the specific needs of each reloader. Whether you are a seasoned amateur or a demanding professional, the Lee Precision Deluxe APP Press is designed to significantly improve your efficiency and comfort during reloading sessions.
