Designed to inspect necked rifle cases after resizing, this gauge ensures your cases meet critical headspace dimensions, avoiding any potential hazards when firing.

The Lyman Rifle Length and Headspace Gauge is an essential tool for any reloader looking to ensure the safety and performance of their ammunition. By ensuring that each case meets critical dimensions, you can avoid the risks associated with incorrect headspace, such as broken cases or misfires. This easy-to-use gauge allows you to quickly inspect your cases after resizing, ensuring high-quality reloads.
