50-shot capacity with multi-pump technology.

The Daisy Model 35 is an air rifle designed for recreational shooting, combining power, precision and comfort of use. Thanks to its multi-pump system, you control the power of each shot according to the number of pumps carried out. Its generous 50 BB magazine allows for extended sessions without constant reloading, while it also accepts lead bullet shooting for greater precision. With a speed of 198 m/s, it offers excellent range and precision suitable for short and medium distance targets.

The Daisy Model 35 air rifle is an excellent choice for recreational shooting, offering great versatility thanks to its multi-pump system. Designed for recreational and training shooters, it can use both steel BBs and lead bullets in single-shot mode, offering an alternative between shot volume and accuracy.

Why choose the Daisy Model 35?

Ammunition Versatility - Compatible with steel BBs for fast shots and lead BBs for accuracy.

Multi-pump system - Adjust the pumping power according to the number of pumps, ideal for varying the intensity according to your needs.

Long firing range - With a capacity of 50 BBs, enjoy long sessions without constant reloading.

Lightness and maneuverability - Its ergonomic design and synthetic stock ensure a comfortable grip, even for young shooters.

Ideal for beginners and training - A perfect rifle for beginner shooters or for recreational shooting at home or outdoors.

???? Directions for use

- For better accuracy, use lead balls in single-shot mode.
- Adjust the power according to the number of pumps: the more you pump, the higher the speed will be.
- Make sure to use suitable targets and follow safety standards for safe use.
