A rifle designed for recreational shooting

With the Daisy Powerline 35 Multi-Pump , you enter the world of recreational shooting with a simple and proven platform. Whether for plinking in a safe backyard or target shooting sessions, it consistently delivers. Its manual operation inspires confidence: no cartridges to replace, just a few pumps... and you're good to go.

Multi-pump system: adjustable power

The pneumatic multi-pump system allows you to adjust the power according to your needs. A few pumps are sufficient for short-range shooting, while a full charge (up to 10 pumps) allows you to achieve high velocities. In practice, this offers real flexibility to adapt to the terrain and the type of target.

Dual ammunition: BBs and pellets

This is exactly the kind of rifle that's appreciated for its versatility. It accepts both steel BBs via an integrated 50-shot magazine, and diabolo pellets in a single-shot loading system for greater accuracy. Two uses, one platform - practical and economical.

Ergonomics and intuitive targeting

The grip is immediate thanks to a synthetic stock with checkering that ensures a secure hold. The open sights , with adjustable rear sight for windage and elevation, allow for easy shot adjustments. Ideal for progressing and refining your accuracy over time.

Simple and reliable design

With no reliance on CO?, this rifle operates independently. This technical choice reduces maintenance and ensures immediate availability - a feature often appreciated in the field. The mechanics remain accessible, robust, and suitable for regular use.
