Interchangeable rotating turret for ultra-fast, adjustment-free caliber change.

The Lee Ultimate Turret Press is the ideal solution for demanding sport shooters and reloaders who demand speed, accuracy and reliability. Its rotating multi-turret system allows for reloading multiple calibers without disassembly, thus saving considerable time. Compatible with standard 7/8"x14 dies, it facilitates the transition between the reloading stages, from recalibration to depriming and crimping, to driving the projectile.

Unmatched performance for smooth and secure recharging:

- Automatic advance : Each descent of the lever automatically advances the tool holder to the next position.
- Reinforced indexing system : Featuring only one moving part and overload protection, it is virtually indestructible. In the event of damage, the clutch can be replaced in seconds, without tools.
- Perfect Alignment : A locking pin fixed to the ram ensures precise and stable positioning of the turret at each cycle.
- Automatic Case Ejection : A built-in ejector ejects your finished cases directly into the tray provided, without the need for adjustments. Made of unbreakable material, it guarantees reliable operation over time.

The Lee Ultimate Turret Press is distinguished by its ingenious design and ease of use, ideal for beginners and experts in reloading. Thanks to its interchangeable rotating turret system, switching from one caliber to another is done in a matter of seconds, making reloading faster and more efficient.

The robustness of its high-strength aluminum structure provides exceptional longevity, even under repeated loads. The fluid lever mechanism allows for minimal effort when recalibrating cases, while the integrated priming guide optimizes safety during handling.

The ergonomic crank and integrated priming lever ensure comfortable and safe handling, even during long reloading sessions. The widened base guarantees optimum stability, while the spent primer evacuation system keeps the work area clean.

Compatible with a wide range of calibers, from rifle to pistol, this press is a great choice for reloaders looking for versatility and performance. Whether you're preparing ammunition for sport shooting, hunting or precision shooting, the Lee Ultimate Turret Press will meet all your requirements.
