Two versions suitable for all Small or Large calibers.

The Lee Primer Arm is an official replacement part designed for Lee Precision single-station presses. Available in Small or Large versions, it ensures precise and secure priming of cases depending on the type of primer used.

- Type: Primer Arm
- Versions available: Small #91867 / Large #91834
- Compatibility: Lee single-station presses (Challenger, Breech Lock, Classic Cast, etc.)
- Use: Direct manual priming in reloading cycle
- Assembly: Simple, without specific tools

An essential part for your seed cycles

The Lee Primer Arm guides the primer directly into the case during the priming process. In the event of wear or loss of the original arm, this accessory ensures continuous reloading without having to replace the entire press.

Two formats depending on the type of primer

Available in a Small version for Small Pistol / Small Rifle primers (ref. 91867) or in a Large version for Large Pistol / Large Rifle primers (ref. 91834), it fits the majority of common calibers used in reloading.

Easy assembly and wide compatibility

This arm is compatible with the most popular Lee presses: Challenger , Classic Cast , Breech Lock , etc. Installation is quick and does not require any specific tools.

- Small Version: Ref. LE807 – Small pistol/rifle primers
- Large Version: Ref. LE806 – Large pistol/rifle primers
- Genuine Part: Lee Precision Manufacturing

- Use: Manual reloading on single-station press
