Optimized for disassembled over-and-under shotguns

Whether for a sporting or hunting rifle, this case allows you to transport your disassembled firearm safely thanks to its molded compartments. The dedicated space for the stock prevents movement and impacts, while the two compartments for over-and-under barrels ensure a secure fit.

Dual-material internal protection

The interior combines open-cell foam on top and a rigid molded base to ensure excellent support while absorbing vibrations. This dual system effectively protects the mechanical parts and the wood, even during long journeys.

Smart storage solutions for accessories

A dedicated space has been provided for one choke, a choke wrench, and a cleaning kit. These compartments facilitate the organization of equipment, while preventing it from being scattered throughout the case.

Robust and practical design

The injected polymer outer shell is shock-resistant and weatherproof. Easy to carry thanks to its integrated handle, it closes securely with several reinforced clips.
