Stackable and ergonomic storage block for cases - easy grip, less bulk.

Lyman molded loading block, with steps for quick access to cases and unit handling without cluttering the work surface.

- Capacity: 50 cases per block
- Material: durable engineering polymer
- Stackable: yes, designed for vertical storage
- Color: black

Design and ergonomics

The stepped design makes it easy to remove a single cartridge: you pinch the cartridge without plunging your fingers into a pile, speeding up the work and reducing discomfort during long sessions. The stackable format minimizes the bench's footprint, making it ideal for small workstations or trade shows.

Construction & Sustainability

Machined from engineering polymer , the block withstands repeated handling, resists common workshop chemicals, and maintains its geometry. The material slightly absorbs shocks and prevents damage to the case heads during loading/unloading.

Organization and time saving

In practice, placing several bleacher blocks in a progressive arrangement on the bench allows for the separation of calibers, case conditions, or production batches-fewer errors, higher throughput. Their stacking is stable and quick, facilitating preparation and storage between batches.

- Secure stacking: locking tabs for stable stacking
- Handling: staggered steps for single extraction
- Compatibility: Suitable for standard rifle and handgun cases (depending on the model)
- Care instructions: Clean with soapy water, dry quickly

Usage tips

Place the blocks within easy reach, stack the prepared batches, and mark each block by size or step (adhesive marker) to avoid confusion. Avoid prolonged exposure to harsh solvents or intense UV light to preserve the material.

FAQ
