Replace the cover on your Num'Axes anti-escape collar

Designed specifically for Canifugue FUG1030 and Canifugue Mix FUG1031 receiver collars, this cover with seal ensures optimal protection against moisture, dust and splashes.

An integrated seal for enhanced watertightness

The flexible gasket supplied with the cover seals the battery compartment and prevents leaks, even when exposed to rain or damp ground. This replacement is recommended if the original cover is worn or lost.

Quick and durable installation

The collar mounts easily onto the original housing without any special tools. The cover is made of robust plastic, and the seal is made of flexible rubber, ensuring a reliable and durable closure for intensive use in the field.

FAQ

Is this lid compatible with the Canifugue FUG1032 and FUG1033 models?

No, this model is specifically designed for the FUG1030 and FUG1031 models. Other versions require a dedicated cover.

Is the gasket included with the lid?

Yes, the sealing gasket is integrated into the product and does not require separate purchase.

Why replace this lid?

A worn or poorly sealed cover can cause the collar to malfunction in the event of water infiltration. Replacing it ensures the system's reliability.
