Allows the use of a headset with walkie-talkie without removing the hearing protection.

The Num'Axes 3.5 mm microphone cable allows you to connect an electronic headset to a walkie-talkie via a 3.5 mm mono jack connector, while benefiting from a discreet lavalier microphone with PTT button.

- Connector type: 3.5 mm mono jack
- Function: lavalier microphone with PTT button
- Compatibility: Num'Axes headsets and walkie-talkies
- Attachment: micro-lapel clip
- Use: Hands-free radio communication

Communication without removing your headset

This cable is designed for Num'Axes electronic headset users who want to stay connected to their walkie-talkie without sacrificing hearing protection. Thanks to its integrated lapel microphone and PTT button , it allows for instant and intuitive communication.

Ergonomic PTT button

The Push-To-Talk (PTT) button is integrated into the microphone clip, which can be discreetly attached to clothing. It allows you to speak without directly handling the walkie-talkie, offering increased responsiveness and safety while moving.

Simple and reliable connection

The cable terminates in a 3.5 mm mono jack , the standard format for most Num'Axes headphones and radios. It is recommended to check compatibility with devices from other brands.
