Realistic simulation of game birds taking flight

Thanks to the Canifly release box , you can launch a pigeon or partridge over a distance. This type of training is essential for developing steadiness to the flush or the English-style release, respecting traditional training protocols.

Control remotely up to 1500 meters

The Canicom 1500 Pro remote control allows you to operate up to 4 release boxes individually or simultaneously. Its 1500m range offers great freedom of movement, even in open terrain.

Practical exclusive: side gate

Unique on the market, the Canifly flight box is equipped with a side gate, allowing you to keep both hands free when introducing the bird. A valuable advantage in real-world conditions.

Robustness, autonomy and reliability

Designed for heavy use, the remote control offers up to 50,000 activations with just two AA batteries. The box itself provides approximately 250 launches and is waterproof. Equipment built to last.
