Ammunition designed for regular sport shooting

This pack of 1000 cartridges is intended for shooters who wish to train regularly with firearms chambered in 7.62x54R . It contains a 148-grain FMJ bullet, a proven standard offering smooth feeding and a stable trajectory at medium range.

FMJ 148-grain bullet: consistency and reliability

The FMJ armor-piercing bullet minimizes fouling and ensures good penetration into paper targets or permitted steel gongs. This profile is particularly well-suited to extended shooting sessions at the range, where consistent performance is paramount.

Copper-plated steel cases and Berdan priming

Copper-plated steel cases ensure good mechanical resistance, even at high rates of fire. The Berdan priming, common on surplus ammunition, requires specific reloading but offers excellent ignition reliability.

Optimized packaging for large volumes

Supplied in 4 boxes of 250 cartridges each, this pack allows for easy stock management and a controlled cost per round. A logical choice for clubs, gun shops, or regular shooters equipped with compatible firearms.
