Tactical successor to the TMP in GBB version

The Maruyama MP-IX GBB stands out as the modern evolution of the renowned TMP. This gas blowback airsoft version is designed for close-quarters environments and rapid movement. Its folding stock , ultra-compact size , and ambidextrous controls make it a formidable choice for CQB.

Rotary QD muffler and multiple rails

This replica comes with a QD BT-style suppressor mounted on a tri-lug thread, compatible with tracer modules (adjustment via shims is possible). The suppressor incorporates a lower rotating Picatinny rail for additional accessories. Picatinny rails are also present on the top and sides of the replica for mounting optics or lights.

Redesigned ergonomics and solid construction

The HK-style fire selector replaces the old through-button system, offering more intuitive operation. The entire assembly is constructed of reinforced polymer with steel parts (hammer, nozzle base, outer barrel), ensuring both lightness and durability .

45-round transparent magazine with direct viewing

The 45-round straight magazine features a transparent body with dummy stickers for a realistic effect. The number of BBs remaining can be seen in real time - ideal for tactical ammunition management.
