A replacement antenna specifically designed for CANICOM GPS remote controls

A damaged antenna does not require replacing the entire remote control. This NUM'AXES part number is designed to replace the antenna on CANICOM GPS , CANICOM GPS 2 , and CANICOM GPS MINI remote controls. The same part therefore covers all three models specified by the manufacturer.

30.5 cm long format and VHF technology

This VHF antenna measures 30.5 cm. This is the long format offered for compatible remote controls. The part number matches the configuration of the antenna originally supplied with the CANICOM GPS MINI kit, ensuring unambiguous identification of the required replacement part.

Common compatibility across three generations of CANICOM GPS

Compatibility covers CANICOM GPS , CANICOM GPS 2 , and CANICOM GPS MINI remote controls. For both resellers and end users, this clearly defined compatibility simplifies identifying the correct remote control antenna when an original part needs replacing.

FAQ

Is a different antenna required depending on the generation of CANICOM GPS remote control?

No, not for the three models concerned by this reference: the same long antenna is indicated by NUM'AXES as compatible with the CANICOM GPS, CANICOM GPS 2 and CANICOM GPS MINI remote controls.

Does this antenna allow a CANICOM GPS MINI to be restored to its original configuration?

Yes. NUM'AXES specifies that this long antenna is identical to the one originally supplied with the CANICOM GPS MINI unit. It is therefore intended to replace this part when it is damaged.
