A powder optimized for speed and comfort

The Super Speed Gen 3 incorporates a specific powder designed for high-efficiency combustion. The result: a high muzzle velocity while maintaining moderate pressure . In practice, shooting remains comfortable and controlled, even with a 36g load, while ensuring excellent consistency from one cartridge to the next.

36g load: versatility and efficiency

Weighing 36 grams , this ammunition offers a shot pattern density suitable for medium-range shooting. It meets the needs of hunters seeking both power and consistent coverage, whether in open fields or semi-open areas.

Multiple lead shot sizes to cover all uses

The range is available in shot sizes 0, 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, and 7 , allowing customers to choose the right shot for their game and shooting distance. Larger shot sizes (0, 1, 2) prioritize energy and penetration, while intermediate to finer sizes (4 to 7) offer a denser shot pattern and greater versatility. This variety enhances shelf appeal and facilitates recommendations at the point of sale.

Regularity of shot patterns and ballistic consistency

We appreciate the consistent performance shot after shot. The quality of assembly and the control of the loading ensure homogeneous patterns, an essential criterion for maximizing effectiveness at the decisive moment.
