A reliable Mossberg rifle for big game hunting

At the heart of this package is the Mossberg Patriot .30-06 Springfield , a bolt-action rifle renowned for its robustness and accuracy. Its fluted, free-floating barrel promotes consistent shots while reducing the rifle's weight. The M14x1 threading allows for the installation of a sound moderator or muzzle brake, depending on the hunter's preference.

Ergonomics and shooting comfort

The black synthetic stock offers excellent resistance to weathering and harsh field conditions. Combined with a rubber butt plate , it improves recoil absorption for the .30-06 Springfield caliber. The adjustable trigger pull, from 2 to 7 pounds, allows the shooter to fine-tune the sensitivity to their preference.

Thermal observation with the PARD Pantera 256 Q

The PARD Pantera 256 Q brings modern thermal technology to a compact format. Its 256x192 px VOx sensor combined with a 1024x768 OLED screen ensures clear scene reading, even in low thermal contrast conditions.

The 25mm objective lens allows for detection up to 1200 meters , while the digital magnification of up to 8x facilitates target identification at various distances. The standard 30mm tube allows for easy mounting thanks to the included rings.

Complete field equipment

The package also includes a STALON X108 sound moderator, offering effective noise reduction while maintaining a compact and balanced design on the rifle. The 30mm mounting rings ensure a stable attachment of the thermal scope to the Weaver rail.

Finally, the 126 cm synthetic sheath protects the weapon during transport and storage. Machine washable, it provides a practical solution for protecting your equipment between outings.

A pack ready to hunt

By combining Mossberg reliability, PARD 's advanced thermal technology and essential accessories, this pack provides a complete solution for hunters seeking high-performance, consistent and immediately operational equipment in the field.

FAQ

Is this pack ready to use upon receipt?

Yes. The pack includes the Mossberg Patriot rifle, the PARD Pantera 256 Q thermal scope, mounting rings, a sound moderator and a carrying case.

Is the thermal scope compatible with a standard mount?

Yes. The Pantera 256 Q uses a standard 30mm tube, which allows the use of classic clamps like those supplied in this pack.

What type of hunting is suitable for the .30-06 Springfield caliber?

The .30-06 Springfield caliber is particularly suited to hunting big game such as wild boar, roe deer or red deer thanks to its power and versatility.
