- Charge: 32 g of hardened lead
- Lead numbers: 5, 6 or 7
- Fill: Fat
- Base: 12 mm
- Crimping: 6-ply
- Color: Translucent

A cartridge designed for hunting migratory birds

The TUNET Migration 12/67 was designed to assist hunters during migrations of thrushes, pigeons, woodcocks, and other migratory game. Its 32-gram load offers an excellent balance between shooting comfort, shot pattern density, and effectiveness in the field.

With its felt wad, this cartridge promotes a natural and progressive dispersion. In practice, this provides consistent coverage, particularly appreciated for rapid or instinctive shots at short and medium ranges.

Hardened lead for improved consistency

Hardened lead improves the retention of pellet sphericity at the start of the shot. This characteristic promotes more consistent trajectories and a better shot pattern, even in demanding hunting conditions.

Available in shot sizes 5, 6 or 7, the range allows you to easily adapt the load according to the game sought and the usual shooting distances.

- Available shot sizes: 5, 6 or 7
- Hunting type: Small game and migratory birds
- Use: Short and medium distance
- Crimping: 6-ply star

Grease wadding and shooting comfort

The felt wad remains particularly appreciated by traditional hunting enthusiasts. It promotes a faster shot pattern opening while maintaining a pleasant and progressive shooting feel.

In other words, this ammunition will be perfect for hunters looking for a versatile cartridge, natural in its behavior and effective in wooded environments or close passages.

A manufacturing process designed for consistency

The 12mm base combined with the translucent tube ensures a clean and functional finish. True to TUNET's expertise, this cartridge prioritizes ballistic consistency and reliability over multiple outings.

FAQ

What types of hunting is this cartridge suitable for?

The TUNET Migration 12/67 is suitable for hunting small game and migratory birds at short and medium distances.

What is the advantage of a greased stuffing?

A greased wad promotes a faster opening of the shot pattern, ideal for close and instinctive shooting in natural or wooded areas.

Which lead number should I choose?

No. 7 shot is generally suitable for close-range shots at small birds, while Nos. 5 and 6 offer more range and energy on tougher game.
