This design allows for better perception of peripheral movements and improved reaction time during paintball games. The result is immediate: improved terrain awareness and greater comfort in dynamic situations.

Double-glazed, anti-fog thermal screen

Temperature fluctuations and physical exertion can quickly cause condensation inside a mask. The double-glazed thermal lens effectively limits this phenomenon while ensuring excellent optical clarity. The absence of visual distortion improves aiming accuracy and gaming comfort, even during long sessions.

Quick, tool-free screen replacement

The Vents Quick Change system allows you to replace the screen in seconds without using any tools. This feature is especially appreciated by gamers who want to quickly adapt their equipment to lighting conditions or replace a damaged screen between games.

Long-lasting comfort with Spectra ProFlex foam

Spectra ProFlex hypoallergenic facial foam comfortably conforms to the contours of the face to minimize pressure points. Its softness and ability to maintain excellent comfort, even after several hours of use, are immediately noticeable.

Optimized protection and communication

The mask's rigid skirt provides excellent protection while promoting airflow. This design also improves voice projection, a valuable advantage for communicating with your team during play. Meanwhile, the E-Vent thermo-foam ear protectors allow you to maintain good awareness of your surroundings.

A reduced profile to limit the impacts

Compared to some larger models, the E-Vent mask has a more compact design. This feature reduces the surface area exposed to impacts while maintaining a high level of protection. This is a sought-after advantage for performance-oriented and competitive players.
