Enhanced protection for Hi-Capa magazines

The ARCTURUS RS® Hi-Capa SEFP™ magazine base plate protects the base of Tactical Vanguard Hi-Capa magazines from shocks and stresses generated during magazine changes or repeated handling. It helps preserve the magazine's integrity while maintaining an excellent grip.

SEFP™ polymer for sustainability

Made from SEFP™ (Super Enhanced Formulated Polymer) , this heel benefits from a specially developed formulation to offer high resistance to impact and wear. This technical material combines robustness, lightness, and good dimensional stability to meet the demands of intensive use.

Better everyday protection

During rapid reloads or field handling, the base of the magazine is often the first area exposed to impacts. This Magazine Bumper Stopper absorbs some of the mechanical stress and helps extend the magazine's lifespan.

Compatible with Tactical Vanguard magazines

Designed specifically for ARCTURUS Tactical Vanguard Hi-Capa magazines , this component directly replaces the original baseplate while maintaining compatibility with the manufacturer's specifications.
