A leather-lined boot that combines lasting comfort, grip and a generous fit.

The Aigle Parcours 3.0 Trophée boot combines a brown rubber upper with a leather and polyester lining. Naturally insulating and thermoformable, the leather helps regulate perspiration while gradually adapting to the shape of the foot and calf. The waterproof zip makes them easy to put on, while the generous fit offers more room for wider calves.

A leather-lined boot suitable for wide calves

The Aigle Parcours 3.0 Trophée brown boot features a leather lining that helps regulate perspiration. This insulating and thermoformable material gradually molds to the shape of the foot and calf. The boot's generous volume enhances comfort for those with wider calves, while the waterproof zipper makes them easy to put on.

An Acti'Grip sole for slippery and loose floors

The Acti'Grip sole uses a rubber compound designed to offer strong grip and increased durability. Its sculpted tread pattern promotes mud shedding to maintain traction on difficult terrain, slippery surfaces, and loose ground.

Anti-fatigue cushioning and reinforced protection

The midsole returns energy with each step to reduce fatigue during extended walks. It is complemented by a removable OrthoLite® insole. The Kevlar™ reinforcement resists punctures and abrasions, while rubber protectors reinforce the shin, heel, and toe.

FAQ - Aigle Boot Parcours 3.0 Trophy

How do I clean the Parcours 3.0 Trophy boots?

Clean them regularly with clear or slightly soapy water using a pH-neutral soap, then wipe them with a lint-free cloth.

How do you care for their rubber stem?

Apply Swipol a few times a year, or more regularly if used daily. A colorless polishing sponge can also be used to clean and shine the rubber.

How should these boots be stored after use?

After cleaning, store them upright, away from light and any source of heat.
