A structure designed to last

Thanks to reinforced brass and precise machining, these cases withstand the high pressures of modern rifle calibers without faltering. Their uniform thickness ensures smooth resizing and remarkable durability.

Suitable for the most technical reloading processes

These cases are compatible with standard and specialty calibers: .308 Win, .30-06 Springfield, .223 Rem, .300 Blackout, .458 SOCOM, and many others. Ideal for precision shooting, dynamic shooting, or long-range reloading.

100% USA Production

Made in Missouri, Starline cases are synonymous with consistent quality and rigorous control. Each carton contains 250 carefully packaged cases, ready for use.

FAQ

Are these cases suitable for long-range shooting?

Yes, their dimensional regularity and quality brass make them an excellent choice for precision applications, including TLD or Benchrest.

Are the cases already primed?

No, all cases are delivered empty, unprimed, and ready to be fitted with a standard Boxer primer.

What is the lifespan of a Starline case?

Depending on the reloading pressures and care taken, a case can withstand several reloading cycles without deformation or cracking. Starline's reputation is built precisely on this durability.
