A true field gun for small game

The Yildiz Silver Over-and-Under Shotgun in 12/76 gauge was designed for hunters who cover long distances behind their dogs. Its light weight and natural balance make it easy to move around throughout the day. It's exactly the kind of shotgun you appreciate from the very first mile, as it remains comfortable to carry.

A light and elegant rocking chair

The aircraft-grade aluminum alloy receiver helps reduce the overall weight of the firearm while ensuring excellent strength. Its silver finish and engravings add a touch of understated elegance reminiscent of traditional European hunting rifles.

Two barrel lengths depending on your practice

Available with 66cm or 71cm barrels, this model allows each hunter to choose the configuration best suited to their hunting grounds. The 66cm version prioritizes speed and maneuverability, while the 71cm version offers a more progressive swing, particularly appreciated when hunting migratory birds.

Oiled and sanded walnut: tradition and comfort

The pistol grip and forend are crafted from sanded and oiled walnut. This finish highlights the natural grain of the wood while providing an excellent grip. The result is both aesthetically pleasing and functional, with a feeling of quality rarely found in this price range.

Versatility thanks to interchangeable chokes

Supplied with five interchangeable chokes, this shotgun easily adapts to different hunting situations. Whether you're looking for a wide pattern for close-range shots or a tighter shot pattern at longer distances, simply select the choke that suits your needs.
